

New! Organic Literacy Courses on AgLearn

Do you know the role USDA plays in organic agriculture?

Take part in this new series—designed to help all USDA employees gain a better understanding of the needs of organic and alternative agricultural producers. With this insight, you can make the USDA’s programs and services more accessible to the customers who need them most.

The Organic Literacy Initiative, a cross-USDA team of 14 agency representatives, has developed two dynamic training modules:

- Organic 101: Introduction to Organic
- Organic 201: Intermediate Organic

To provide the best service to our organic customers, you have to know which resources are appropriate for their needs. Get “literate” so you can make the right connections to the right services.

These modules are part of the larger Organic Literacy Initiative which also includes a comprehensive Resource Guide to USDA programs, brochures, and posters available for download at www.ams.usda.gov/organicinfo

Don't miss this exciting new series... Organic Literacy.

And, as always, you can add to your knowledge at no cost to you, 24/7!
