

Get Familiar with the Controlled Unclassified Information Program

Tablet friendly

The Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) program, established by Executive Order 13556, standardizes the way the Executive branch manages unclassified information. This information requires safeguarding or dissemination controls pursuant to and consistent with law, regulations, and government-wide policies. Learn more about the CUI program with AgLearn.

These courses work great on a tablet. Wi-Fi is recommended for the best experience. For more technical details, go to http://documentation.skillsoft.com/en_us/support/index.htm#45670.htm

Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI) and the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA)

CUI & FOIA clarifies the distinction between the Controlled Unclassified Information program and the Freedom of Information Act.

Introduction to Controlled Unclassified Information (CIU)

This course discusses the history of controlled unclassified information and the need for consistent government-wide policy.

Introduction to Executive Order 13556 Controlled Unclassified Information

Executive Order 13556 introduces the Presidential directive to create a collaborative and standardized approach for managing controlled unclassified information.

Follow us on Twitter @AgLearnToday

AGLEARN.USDA.GOV

The official logo of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), consisting of the letters 'USDA' in a bold, serif font above a stylized green and white graphic of a field or landscape.