

New! eAuth Login Screen Changes for AgLearn Login

Beginning in October, there will be a change to the USDA eAuthentication login page for AgLearn. You will be required to select the United States federal agency from which you log in. This change is due to the AgLearn partnership with the USDA's ICAM Active Directory Federation Services solutions and support for AgLearn's federal partnership agencies.

What to Expect When You Log in the First Time

- You will be prompted to select the federal agency from which you log into the system (see image below).
- Select the correct agency; then follow the regular login process.
- You can select a default agency to avoid making a selection at every login.
 - Select "Use this Agency Login every time I log into eAuthentication". This option is located right below the drop down option box.
- Once the selection is made, the default agency will be selected each time you log into the AgLearn site.
