

Canning Regulation Sections Verified Less Frequently

If you have verified that the persons supervising the operators of the thermal processing systems and container closure technicians have completed the appropriate training, 9 CFR 318/381.310 would not have to be verified again unless there are supervisory changes. Likewise, if you verified that there is a recall procedure on file, 318/381.311 would not have to be verified again unless you have reason to believe that a recall procedure is no longer on file.
